Withers's Faverdale Colt Wins the Hopeful Stakes.

MONMOUTH PARE, N. J., July 7. - Many of the big wowd of spectators that flocked to Monmouth Park to-day made for the saddling paddock at once. The attraction there was Col. Bruce's joint sale of horonghbreds. The lot of twenty-eight head of roungsters from the Brookdale, Newminster, Ellersite and Mr. Armstrong's studs are by King Ernest, Stonehenge, Macaroon, Uncas, Duke of Magenta, Eolus, Emperor, Pizarro, Iroquois, Charavus, Lyttleton and Ilt Ban.

Excessive prices were not the rule, or even the exception, in this sale—$1,050 for a bay Duke of Magenta colt, bid by Mr. R. McBride, was the best igure realized. An Emperor colt was knocked lown to Mr. A. Kraemer for $800. Wm. Jennings bought a bay colt, by King Ernest, for $700. A thestnut colt, by imported Stonehenge, was sold to b. Stewart for $840. The others went for from

The fine card made the crowd, that almost tvalled the great holiday a semblage on the opening day, take the beautiful journey to the course. The Hopeful Stakes for two-year-olds, and the great Lorillard Stakes for youngsters a year older, were the events of the day. The three-years-old race, one of the great fixtures of the year and worth close on $15,000, had such contestants as Prince Royal, Guarantee, Fitz James, Bella B., ir Dixon, Defense, Bendigo and Refund.

"Not a favorite, and three races run," excaimed the talent as they sat down to ride, and hen went to the whip for the fourth race. W. B. Jennings's Swift had a great call in the betting before the opening dash, but the talent wept when she did not come in any way.

Diablo, the tip for the two-year-old race, could get no nearer than third, and a like fate befell the Dwyer Bros. ' Kingston in the Long Branch Handi-

Dwyer Bros.' Kingston in the Long Branch Handicap.

Bit Dixon was the favorite in the Lorillard Stakes—worth in the neighborhood of $16,000 to the winner; but iots of money was pileq on Bella B, Fitz James, Los Angeles and Frince Royal.

"That'll pull Dwyers' stable out of their $15,000 hole," and "a full brother to Belvidere, too," were the admiring comments as Sir Dixon again proved his audity by pulling off the rich Lorillard Stakes, two lengths before the Santa Anita Stabb's Los Angeles, and with Frince Royal, Mr. Belmontus crack, no better than third. A breakaway or two and they are off, eight of the best three-year-oids in America. Bella B, is off best, but Lucky Baidwin's crack is running, and she shows before the Dwyers' flity in no time.

Bella B, will have the lead though, and grabs it again before the turn is rounded.

It sgain before the turn is rounded.

The Dwyers filly make the running by the stand and about the lower turus. On the backstretch turn Los Angeles came by oncembre, but Sir Dixon and Defense are upnow.

"Will they beat her?" Swinging into the stretch the Californian is again in the lead, and Prince Royal is close after the dying second norse Bella B. The thousands shout a dozen names as the flying steeds charge down on the stand. "Sif Dixon only," is the strongest cry, and the first favorite of the day to win. FIRST RACE.

THE BANISHED BOY.

Josie Shephard's Case a General West Side Topic.

Everybody Sides with the Grandmother Robbed of Her Boy.

Expressions from Neighbors and Friends Who Have Known the Old Lady Well - A General Hope for the Success of "The Evening World" in Restoring the Boy-The Mail-Carrier Says He Never Delivered as Asylum Letter to Mrs. Shephard.

As the time draws near for the rehearing of the case of little Josie Shephard by the Indenturing Committee of the New York Juvenile Asylum the interest of the public in the outcome of THE EVENING WORLD's efforts to have the boy brought back from his exile in the West and restored to his relatives and friends in this city grows more and more intense.

This is especially true of the neighborhood in which Mrs. Shephard, the grandmother, and Mr. Andrew Grant, who is going to adopt the boy if he can get him back, reside. It is the talk of the day in that part of the

"There is hardly an acquaintance of mine." said Mr. Grant to an Evening World reporter, " who does not speak of the case and congratulate me and my friend Mrs. Shepaard that we have so strong and untiring a champion as THE EVENING WORLD to assist us in getting our rights, and express the conviction that with such powerful aid we will be sure to get back the boy. It's a great thing for us, and you may be sure that we appreciate it deeply.

"There is so much interest in the case around here that many people cannot get their Evening Would nowadays, every body is following the progress of the case so closely, and it is the same way all along up to Harlem, for I have many friends on the west side, and I know from what they tell me. I want to say, too, that if we get Josie "I want to say, too, that if we get Josie back I am going to send him to school in the fall with my little boy Tommy. Everything is all arranged, and if we get him at all it will be before that time. Poor Mrs. Shephard can hardly believe yet that ske will see her grandchild again, and occasionally has fits of despendency even now. We do all we can to en ourage her, and you may be sure that we will all be on hand on Monday night, when the committee meets, to furnish all the information that can be desired to show our ability to take care of the boy and bring him ability to take care of the boy and bring him information that can be desired to show our ability to take care of the boy and bring him up properly."

Inquiry in the neighborhood showed that the interest taken in the case all over town was even stronger than had been suspected. Emanuel Steinberg, of 539 Tenth avenue, and one of the largest newsdealers in the vicinity, said:

"I know the people around here are following the progress of the Shephard case very closely. No one could help being interested in it. I am mysef, although I do not know any of the parties, and never heard of them be ore. People who come in here stop and talk it over, and watch anxiously for new developments.

"Only last night I went uptown to see some friends who live in One Hundred and Tenth streets, and found them all discussing it, and they assured me that Harlem was enthusiastic for the success of old Mrs. Shephard's cause. I am sure I hope she will succeed, for she seems to have been treated most unjus#v and cruelly."

Mrs. William I oung, who lives at 517 West Thirty-eighth street, is an acquaintance of Mrs. Shephard and has known her for five years. She said: "There is not a more re-

Mrs. Shephard and has known her for five years. She said: "There is not a more respectable and worthy woman in New York. She is a hard-working and sober woman, who has lots of friends about her who think it is a shame that she should be deprived of the child. She is poor, but that is no reason child. She is poor, but that is no reason why she should be told that her grandson cannot live where she can sometimes see cannot live where she can sometimes see him."

Mrs. Sick, the wife of a German shoemaker who lives at 519 West Thirtn-eight street, said that Mrs. Shephard came to see her last night, and told her all about the sending away of the boy.

"She seemed to feel very badly about it, and cried most all the time she was telling me the story. I know her well, and my little boy, who was drowned last summer, was a playmate and constant companion of Josie Shephard. It was very hard on the old lady to send away the child when he was sick, and she worries about him al, the time. He was such a nice little fellow, too, if he was wild sometimes."

Sabastian Dorfmuller and his wife, who keep a sausage store on Eleventh avenue, knew Mrs. Shephard as one of their customers and she was frequently employed by them to do the washing. "There is not a harder working or an houester woman in town," said Mr. Dorfmuller, "and I know that she deserves to get back her child. Everybody around here is talking about it "

"I have known Mrs. Shephard only for a short time." said Mrs. Charlo te Van Peit, of 448 Eleventh avenue, "but I have heard about the child she had up in the asylum. She visited it on the stormlest days last winter, in regular blizzard weather, in rain and shipe and siyars took him something nice. ter, in regular blizzard weather, in rain and shine, and always took him something nice. We all took an interest in the boy, and she always was expecting to get him out some time this summer. It was cruel in those asylum people to send him away without e ting her know anything about it, and it is worrying the poor woman to death. But with The Eveniso World to aid her. I feel certain that she will see her boy again."

Her daughter, Miss Sar-h Maure, and Mr. and Mrs. James Daly, who are neighbors, rechoed her sentiments.

F. Schwartz, who keeps a grocery store at Thirty-ninth street and Eleventh avenue, said that Mrs. Shephard during the last year had frequently worked for him, and vouched for her as a thoroughly respectable, industrious and worthy woman.

her as a thoroughly respectable, industrions and worthy woman.

"She thought all the world of that boy," he said, "and would have worked herself to death for him if it had been necess ry. I know she never bad any intention of giving him up and was only waiting till she could get him out of the institution to bring him home and support him herself. Almost every one who comes in here has something to say of the case, and they all commend the energy which The Evening World has shown in giving its readers all the particulars of the case and in the great fight it is making."

In the course or his investigations the reporter came across the postman whose route includes the residence of Mrs. Shephard, at 608 West 38th street. His name is Michael Bergen, and he is an attache of Station E, at Seventh avenue and Twenty-eighth street.

"I have known the Shephards for three years," he said, "ever since I have been on this route. They don't get much mail, but whatever comes always goes to their address. I can swear that I never have received any letter bearing the stamp of the Juvenile Asylum, which, it is stated, was sent to Mrs. Shephasi on May 21 last, informing her of the intention of sending away her grandchild. If such a letter had come I should have taken special notice of it. No such letter ever was given to me to distribute, and if it was sent at all it was misdirected; there is no doubt of that.

"I hear lots of people talking about the case over on the west side here, and in some quarters it has caused a regular sensation."

Fina Inning—The Globe boys were retired easily as were THE WORLD sluggers. The feature of thi inning was M. Donovan's double play unassisted.

In the second inning Moran strack out two men

In the second inning Moran struck out I wo men, young Collins swalowed a foul fly and F reel proved that he was a good fielder. No runs for either side.

In the third inning, the Globe beys got a run on Drury's hit, a passed ball, Gilogiy's sacridee and herger's muff of a thrown ball. The World got a boy as "er as third base, but aplendld battery work of Sullivan and Collins saved the day. One run for the Globe.

New York and Boston drew goose eggs in the ourth, due to Lichteustein's two good cutches and fourth, due to Lichtenstein's two good catches and the Hub's battery.

In the fifth no runs were made.

The Globe coys pounded Moran for three two-barcers and a single in the sixth, end aided by kelliy's wild throw to third, accred two runs.

New York broke the lice in the sixth, when O'Connor's base on bails, Collins's wild throw and Mayer's hit gave them one run.

Notaing more of consequence happened until the eighth inning, when Jack Taylor's youngsters added three runs to their lead on hits by O'Brien and Ring and wretcaed throwing by McCartiny.

New York got three runs in their half of the eighth on one hit—the Globe boys were rattled just a little bit, that was the cause of it.

Neither scored in the ninth.

A drunken brawl and riot, which ended in probably a double murder, was enacted within the last ten hours by a chowder party gang in Long Island City. afternoon fuet in time to take carriages to Recres-

The body of William Owens, twenty-four years of age, lies in Hanan's morgue as a result of the night's orgy, and his friend Conrad Welsh is lying at the point of death with a bullet in his side. In the early part of the evening about wenty-five young men assembled at Marra's Prospect Garden, on Prospect street, Dutch Kilfs. Marra has no license, but sells liquor on the quiet. The young men in the neigh-borhood, most of whom are bricklayers, bor hood, most of whom are bricklayers, plumbers, painters, carpenters and other mechanics, were invited to participate in a chowder party at Marra's place.

The invitation was generally accepted, and about 9 o'clock more beer than chowder had been indulged in. Soon after all the beer had been consumed the gang became very boisterous. Headed by Thomas Marra and James Masterson, the gang left the Prospect Saloon to a faint the "Rills red."

The first place the drunken mob attacked was the saloon of Thomas Tierney, corner of Crescent street and Wilber avenue, three blocks away. A disturbance was raised here, and the proprietor, who is a young man, for blocks away. A disturbance was raised here, and the proprietor, who is a young man, for a time patiently bore with his tormentors, but Marra began to smash things, and he was ejected with much difficulty. Masterson then assaulted lierney, who had already been roughly handled in ejecting Marra. The gang then went sway, vowing vengeance. The liquor saloon of William Capel on Crescent street, and not far from Tierney's, was next visited and an attack made for drinks. The proprietor and his wife founds was next visited and an attack made for drinks. The proprietor and his wife fought the roughs way. The roughs kept up their caronsal until midnight, when it was decided to attack Tierney's saloon again. Tierney had shortly before closed up his store and went across the street, where he resides, and was about preparing to go to bed when the gang, howling, swooped down upon his place. He seized his 32-calibre Smith & Wesson

He seized his 32-calibre Suith & Wesson revolver, and with William Flannagan, a friend, crossed the street to his saloon to detend his property. He and Flannagan went into the hall of the saloon building. Suddenly the attack was made on the saloon and the whole front of the saloon was bembarded with stones. All the windows were demolished. Upon hearing the crash Tiernev stepped out of the ballway, revolver in hand, and fired upon the rioters. Owens and Welsh appeared to be the leaders in this attack, and were shot in front of the saloon. 'The others of the gang were on the opposite side of the

The residents of the neighborhood had already been aroused, and upon hearing the noise made by the bombardment and pistol shots the wildest excitement and c. finsion prevailed. Neighbors rushed bither and thicker, while the majority of the roughs oscaped in the darkness. Masterson. Marra, Richard Roughly and Albert Mutch, of 164 East One Hundred and Eighth street, New York, went to the aid of their dying companions.

They carried Welsh to Capel's saloon and laid him out upon the barroom floor. Dr. Lyttle was immediately summoned and the saloon doors barriesded. laid him out upon the barroom floor. Dr.
Lyttle was immediately summoned and the salloon doors barricaded. Officer Thomas Harty at this juncture came upon the scene, with Special Officer James McKeon. Admittance was re used to the officers, whose lives were as otherened. The officers in short order burst open the door of the saloon and on gaining an entrance at once placed all hands under arrest, including Mr. and Mrs. Capel.

The doctor bronounced Welsh to be in a dying condition, and Coroner Robinson was summoned to take his ante-mortem statement. While Officers Hart and McKeon Wree taking their prisoners to the Second Precinct Station-House they came across the prostrate form of Owens, who was lying in the road unconscious. A wagon was procured, and the wounded man was conveyed to the Hun er's Point station-house, where he died shortly after his arrival. The bullet had entered the upper lobe of his right car and penetrated his skull.

Welsh was still alive at noon, but is thought that he cannot recover. He is shot in the left side, the bullet taking an inward course. Welsh was still jing on a cot in Capel's saloon at noon.

with homicide. William Flannagan, who was with Tiernev at the time of the shooting, and Mary Connerty, who is a sister-in-law of Tierney and who was as-aulted by Masterson, were arrested and held as witnesses, as was also Diedrich F. Rieter.

The action of Tierney is generally approved in Long Island City. Owens, the dead man, who is married, leaves a wife but no children. He was a shiftless fellow, but worked accasionally in the Empire oil yard worked occasionally in the Empire of yard tin suop, in Hunter's Point. He resided in Dutch Kills for many years, where his relatives now live.

Tierney bears a good reputation. Capel and his wife some years ago were fined $300 for assaulting Officer Owen Kavanagh.

The police are out hunting for the remainder of the rioters, and it is expected that other arrests will be made before night. The Faguns Are Fallen.

All Pittsburg is talking over President Nimick's recent additions to his club, two pitchers-Statey, St. Louis (5th inning) - 0 recently of the St. Louis Whites, and Knell, who was with the well-known Greenwood and Moran Brooklyn - -Club, of California. The latter pitched a winning game yesterday, but apparently has no speed, and only his extreme wildness accounts for his seeming effectiveness. Staley is considered stronger, and t was he who faced the Giants to-day.

Beckley, too, is a new-comer to the Pittsburgs, and was with the St. Louis Whites early in the season. Manager Phillips signed him some two weeks ago.

Just as the gong for game sounded Umpire Lynch, who was standing at the home plate and surrounded by the fourteen Giants, presented them with a large panel of flowers, messuring full feet square. They were sent by Wm. Dinm, of New York, and addressed to Capt. Ewing, The background was of mosses and maiden-hair fern, across which was a wide strip of white roses, and among them was the word "Giants" and the figure "3" (signifying the standing of the club) worked in the darkest of red carnations. The whole was bordered by sweet peas and violets and was placed on a high wire stand. Attendance 2,000; weather fair.

day suits closely resembled the clay-colored diamond.

First Inning—Sanday was given his base on balls. He made a dash to second and scored on Ewing's high throw to Richardson and Slattery's failure to stop the ball. Carell creeked out a single to right.

Whitney ran over into Ward's territory after Coleman's rlow grounder, reached for it with one hand sut did not get it, and the Alleghenys had men on first and second. Carroll scored on Beckeley's single to centre, but Coleman was caugat between third and home by Whitney and Ewing. Beckley took second on Dalrymple's bit past Ward, leckley tried to score, but was turown out at the plate by O'Rourke. Kuenne went out, Richardson to Connor. Two runs, Ewing led off with a single over second, and stole that base on the third ball pitched. Richardson's sacrifice grounder to Smith advanced Back to third. Therman struck out and the Pittaburgers yelled.

Ewing scored on Connor's single to left and Warn's dy to short right field was muffed by Coleman. Ward started for second just as Slattery's attempted sacrifice materialized into a base hit, and Johann kept on to taird.

Whitney came to the front with a timely single to right on while: Ward scored and Slattery took second. The latter was caught stealing third, Carroll to Miller.

Keefe retired on a fig to Smith. Ewing went out Keefe feitred on a ny to Smith. Ewing went out Smith to Beckley. One run.
Seventh Incine, —Smith filed out to Slattery.
Miller popped up one, watch Richardson canght, and Statey went out, Richardson to Connor.
